

Pathology Club's First Annual

Pathological Epicurean

We invite the CVM community to join us and showcase their culinary skills on a night devoted to pathological cuisine. We urge you to devise a dish reminiscent of a pathological lesion, condition, or disease. Be creative, daring, and as gross as you possibly can. Three categories include appetizers/side dishes, entrees, and desserts. Those interested in entering a dish can register at:

Although all are welcome to attend, we highly encourage you to bring a dish for all to taste. No entrance fee is required!

A small, light dinner will be available including sub sandwiches and blood punch for those who RSVP at the following website:
